JAPAN Beach Soccer National Team

Japan Beach Soccer National Team has participated in the FIFA Beach Soccer World Cup six consecutive times since its first edition in 2005. Japan was semifinalist in 2005 and quarterfinalist in 2006 and 2009.

Japanese football legend Ramos Ruy has been taking the rein once again after 2005 for Japan since 2009, and he led the team to two straight Asian Championships in 2009 and 2011.

The new team captain Moreira Ozu, who was born and raised in Brazil like his coach Ramos, obtained Japanese nationality just before the Asian Qualifying Round for the World Cup Tahiti 2013. This is his first World Cup to join as a player and his high performance adds some spices to this experienced team.

The team is aiming to reach the top three in the world which will be their first time ever in Japanese Beach Soccer history and they are ready to show their Samurai Spirit on the sand.
